Research & Development activities

Comieco operates consistently with the goals of the European policy and focuses its research in view of an impact on waste prevention and on packaging design, production, distribution, consumption, and use. The Consortium wishes to support companies and designers in the shift towards the circular economy by enhancing its research and development activities (Comieco FACTORY).

The implemented initiatives include multiple actions, such as collaboration with Italian Universities to design paper and board packaging, reviews of our lifestyles, the enhancement of sustainable packaging, and the monitoring of paper and board packaging (Best Pack), which best represents sustainable solutions on the national and international market and was often acknowledged for its life-long sustainability.

In time Comieco has been striving to promote the awareness of, and to enhance the business of recycled paper and board manufacturing beyond packaging, and has created a broad data base of recycled made-in-Italy paper and board products, except packaging (The other side of paper for recycling).
